1.4.67
a Lesson in the University of The New Covenant
Theodore Cottingham, February 5, 2006 1:03 in Big Red www.unc.bz

1. Who can know the power of one? Ted, you will, you do; you know you are coming into; and show many you will, you do now: at-time-not; without time/through time and time not constraining. I love you.

2. You show all who have/want eyes to see. I love you and I give you Me.

3. Thou hast said thou art a Melchizedek, not in thine own power, but yea releasing Me to be Me, and show Myself to you I have, yea relinquishing all right and title to yea My surrendered, My surrendered; My surrendered who I surrender to, who has surrendered to Me; and yea in our surrender to each other, yea behold and not alone are we ever again; for we each other are, yea in covenant beautiful; placid not in man's terms, but yea Mine.

4. I love you and I thank you for My Son shining, yea through you to My darkened many; and yea we flourish now the Falklands many, yea now in every nation. Watch Me.

5. See what I have said and hand-touch not these words; forbidden.
I love you.
I give you My word/ways eternal.
Amen.

6. Thou art coming into a new place and you take many with you, not as thought, but showing many the way, now and forever more; path of light, yea are/being. I love you and all that I have said is thine; My heart yours.

7. Thank you one-er of Me. I love you.

Good day.